Beaverhead County Museum Will Be Closed

Monday September 8th through Friday September 12th
You can reach Candi at 406-683-5027 or email bvhdmmuseum@hotmail.com. The museum office will be open during furnace replacement.

The Board of Trustees and I extend our sincere gratitude to everyone for their unwavering support over the years. It requires significant funding to keep our doors open and functioning throughout the year. The furnace in the main museum, installed in 1967, has served us well but is now nearing the end of its lifespan. I am pleased to share that we will be installing a new furnace in the museum, along with another furnace in the depot.

It is thanks to the support of our community that we have thrived in Dillon for 75 years.

Thank you,
Candi Whitworth, Executive Director
Board of Trustees - Mark McGinley, Kristy Pozega, Aggie Helle, Lee Graves, Donna Jones, April Bordelon and Morgan McLaren

Attorney General Knudsen warns of dangers

Attorney General Austin Knudsen is warning Montanans of the dangers of 7-hydroxymitragynine (7-OH), a widely available over-the-counter opioid. 7-OH is a concentrated byproduct of the kratom plant that has a high potential of misuse and can even cause death.

The chemical makeup of 7-OH has a dangerously high potency when consumed and can cause respiratory depression, physical dependence, and withdrawal symptoms similar to some of the most powerful opioids including fentanyl, morphine, and oxycodone; and in some cases, can lead to death. According to the Food and Drug Administration, 7-OH is 13 times more potent than morphine. Since 2020, the Montana Department of Health and Human Services has recorded 29 deaths in Montana involving 7-OH.

Currently in Montana it is not listed as a controlled substance in the Montana Code Annotated or on any federal controlled substances list. 7-OH is not approved by the FDA, is not lawful in dietary supplements, and 7-OH cannot be lawfully added to conventional foods.

Finish Eighth at MSU Bobcat Twilight

Montana Western's Harrison Silverio and Olivia Heiner were the top Bulldog finishers at the MSU Bobcat Twilight Friday evening in Bozeman.

Silverio clocked a 17:22.6 to finish 50th out of 84 competitors in the men's 5k. Heiner ran a 20:58.4 to take 46th out of 75 runners in the women's 5k.

"It was good to see both teams race today, and I think for the most part everyone raced well through the first 3k," head coach Taylor Grove said. "I am hoping to work on finishing strong through the last half of the race in the coming weeks. We have three weeks of training before our next race, so this was just a starting place, and I think we are in a good spot for the beginning of the season."

The other finishers on the men's side included Brant Heiner (54th, 17:48.4), Brody Henry (57th, 18:01.0), Kreg Butler (60th, 18:12.7), Cael Thilmony (61st, 18:13.1), Tristan Von Bargaen (68th, 18:44.1), Noah Rovente (71st, 19:24.3), Bridger Wheeler (73rd, 19:31.7), and Mason Lynch (75th, 19:39.4).

Thilmony, Van Bargaen, and Lynch all made their collegiate debuts.

On the women's side, Justene Santi (59th, 22:02.3), Ashley Murnion (71st, 25:06.31), and Kylee Wyatt (74th, 28:02.9) rounded out the Bulldog finishers.

It marked a collegiate debut for Murnion.

UMW Volleyball Wraps Up Hells Canyon Grand Invitational

The Montana Western volleyball team (2-5) split the second day of competition at the Hells Canyon Grand Invitational, defeating Arizona Christian 3-2 in the first match of the day before falling to LC State 3-1. Jordan Olson and Kennedy Lingenfelter were both named to the all-tournament team for their efforts.

"This weekend we saw a lot of growth and glimpses of the team playing really well together," head coach Katie Lovett said. "While there's still plenty to work on, we are proud of the growth we were able to achieve. Jordan and Kennedy receiving all-tournament team was well deserved and we are excited to see them continue to grow throughout the season."

First Annual Campus & Community Cinema Night: A Free Screening of Common Ground

The University of Montana Western invites the Dillon community to the First Annual Campus & Community Cinema Night, featuring a free screening of the award-winning documentary Common Ground by Josh and Rebecca Tickell.

□ Tuesday, September 16, 2025

□ Showtimes: 4:00 PM & 7:00 PM

□ Swysgood Technology Center Great Room,
University of Montana Western Campus

Common Ground tells the powerful story of farmers, scientists, and activists working to heal America's soil, support family farms, and regenerate the future of food and farming. This film has inspired audiences across the country—and now Dillon joins the national conversation on regenerative agriculture.

The evening will feature: • Film Screening of Common Ground • Local organizations/nonprofit/student tabling on food, land, and community health • Community panel & audience Q&A with local leaders • Opportunities to connect, volunteer, and take action

"This is more than a screening—it's a call to action," said organizers. "By coming together, we can learn, share, and be part of building healthier soil, healthier food, and healthier communities right here in Beaverhead County."

Admission is free and open to the public. All are welcome—students, families, farmers, ranchers, and community members.

Upcoming MT 91 closure north of Dillon

The Montana Department of Transportation (MDT) and its closure. From the south end of the project area, beginning at the MT 91 and North Montana Street intersection, travelers will turn north onto Laknar Lane, west onto Schuler Lane, and then south onto MT

91. The approximate detour length is 3.5 miles.

Construction is scheduled to begin the week of September 15 and

Veteran's Corner Update #324
 By Mike Lawson

Veteran News Updates:

• Our Marine Corps League, Det. #724, ran the "Beer Garden" for Montana Tech's Homecoming football game with Western Montana College. A lot of people were there from both colleges, especially with Western being only 64 miles away, in Dillon, south of Butte. It was a good game and as a MCL Detachment, we sold a lot of beer and had fun interacting with the crowd. It was another community event we volunteered to participate in. We wore our MCL Covers (hats), had our donation jars out and people were generous in their donations. All the proceeds from the beer sales went to the Montana Tech Foundation. It was good exposure for us and the interaction with the folks there resulted in a great/fun time.

• Stress can be very debilitating to anyone and Veterans are as susceptible to it as well. This is especially true if the Veteran is dealing with PTSD. The VA is suggesting five quick strategies to regain one's calm. They call it "Grounding Exercise: Connecting with our senses". Don't let life overwhelm you — try these five steps to manage stress: (1) Go for a walk or roll: Move your body and calm your mind. If you have taken a walk outside in a time of stress, you probably noticed the magic of your entire mood changing. Fresh air, movement and a new view makes the difference. (2) Chat with a friend or loved one: Connect and release. You're not alone. Sometimes when feeling stressed, it's helpful to reach out to someone you trust. It doesn't have to be a deep conversation; even a quick text or a five minute call can make a world of difference. (3) Visualize something positive or hopeful: Change your inner channel. Our minds are powerful, sometimes too powerful for their own good. Stress can often hijack our imagination, making us think of the worst case scenarios. Think of a positive time where it felt safe, etc.. (4) Put on some music and dance: Shake it out, literally. (5) Engage in a quick mindfulness exercise: Find calming in the present... For more information on these five steps, check out your local VA Whole Health Point of View. This next week-end will see a number of us Vietnam Veterans going on an Honor Flight to Washington D.C.. I'm excited and will report on it in my next Veteran's Corner column.

Bozeman Symphony and Montana Ballet Company Unite for Two Productions

The Bozeman Symphony is proud to expand its artistic partnership with the Montana Ballet Company (MBC), bringing live symphonic music to two of MBC's major productions in the upcoming season. Bozeman Symphony musicians will continue to accompany MBC's beloved holiday classic, The Nutcracker, and under the baton of Music Director Norman Huynh, MBC and the full Bozeman Symphony Orchestra will present a new full-length production of Sleeping Beauty.

Performances of The Nutcracker will take place December 6-7, 2025, followed by Sleeping Beauty on March 7-8, 2026, both at the Willson Auditorium in downtown Bozeman.

MBC Artistic Director Melissa Bowman said, "MBC's collaboration with the Bozeman Symphony is a truly inspiring artistic partnership."

This collaboration reflects both organizations' long-term strategies for growth and community impact. Over the past decade, MBC has tripled its operating budget, added new performances and educational initiatives, and expanded its professional company and Academy, which now serves more than 400 young dancers annually. The Bozeman Symphony has also experienced remarkable growth, setting records for ticket sales and programming. The 2024-25 season featured 34 performances, a broader reach through diverse programming and venues, and an expanded focus on education and community access.

Founded in 1984, Montana Ballet Company is a nonprofit arts organization dedicated to presenting world-class performances, providing high-quality dance education, and fostering access to the arts through meaningful community outreach.

Now in its 58th season, the Bozeman Symphony engages, uplifts, and inspires through extraordinary symphonic and choral performances. Its dynamic season includes a Classical Series, Bozeman Symphony Presents Series and free community programs like Symphony Storytime, Kinderkonzerts, and Far Afield.

Where People Come First. Always.

HOW TO TALK TO AN OLDER ADULT ABOUT SUICIDAL THOUGHTS

Conversations about suicide can be deeply uncomfortable—and yet, they're often essential. This is especially true when speaking with older adults, who may be quietly struggling with emotional pain, isolation, or a sense of hopelessness.

Many people hesitate to ask an older parent, grandparent, neighbor, or friend if they're having suicidal thoughts. It can feel intrusive, awkward, or even frightening. But asking the question—directly and compassionately—can be a powerful act of care.

STEPS FOR A PRODUCTIVE CONVERSATION

1. Start with observation, not judgement: Rather than confronting or diagnosing, gently reflect what you've noticed. For example: "You haven't seemed like yourself lately, and I've been a little worried. Would it be okay if we talked for a bit?"
2. Ask with kindness and clarity: It's okay to be direct. You might say: "When people feel overwhelmed by health issues or life changes, they sometimes think about ending their lives. Have you had thoughts like that?"
3. If they say yes: Thank them for trusting you, offer reassurance and support, and collaborate with them on the next steps to get them in touch with a doctor or counselor. If the threat is serious enough, know when to escalate and seek immediate medical intervention.
4. If they say no: Gently follow up. Sometimes a no or an unclear answer may be hiding something more. Even simply showing concern may have a meaningful impact and open the door for future conversations.
5. After the conversation: Support doesn't end after one conversation. Schedule a follow-up or check-in soon—this shows that your concern wasn't just a passing moment. Even small gestures, like sharing a meal or calling to say hello, can make a big impact.

Our hospital-based outpatient program meets the unique needs of older adults experiencing depression and/or anxiety. Anyone can make a referral to our program, including self-referrals, provider referrals, or community consultations.

Call us today at (406) 683-3145.
