Attorney General Knudsen files opening brief in SCOTUS case

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen filed the opening brief in William Trevor Case v. State of Montana ahead of oral arguments at the Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) in October. The Attorney General's Office will defend a Montana Supreme Court decision that law enforcement may enter a home without a search warrant if there is reason to believe a life-threatening emergency is occurring.

In 2021, law enforcement in Anaconda entered Case's home after receiving and witnessing credible information that the defendant, William Case, may have committed suicide. The officers entered the home to provide emergency aid if needed, and instead Case was hiding in a closet and upon seeing police he exited the closet and pointed a gun at an officer. The officer subsequently shot and wounded Case. Ultimately, Case was found guilty by a jury of assaulting a peace officer. He appealed that decision to the Montana Supreme Court, which affirmed the jury's verdict.

While Case claims the officers violated his Fourth Amendment rights, which protect citizens from unreasonable searches and seizures by the government, when they entered his home, the Fourth Amendment's plain text does not require either warrants or probable cause for all searches, it commands only that searches must be "reasonable." In this instance, officers believed they had enough objectively reasonable evidence that supported that Case may have died and that was enough reason to enter the home without a warrant.

"The officers did exactly what Case says the Fourth Amendment requires—they corroborated the emergency report with on-the-ground observations and acted based on a reasonable belief that Case needed urgent aid," Attorney General Knudsen wrote in the brief.

Attorney General Knudsen also refutes Case's "probable cause" standard for law enforcement needing a warrant to enter his home as probable cause is inseparably tied to criminal investigations and not emergency-aid situations.

SCOTUS agreed to hear the case in June and it will be argued by Attorney General Knudsen and Solicitor General Christian Corrigan on October 15.

First Annual Campus & Community Cinema Night: A Free Screening of Common Ground

The University of Montana Western invites the Dillon community to the First Annual Campus & Community Cinema Night, featuring a free screening of the award-winning documentary Common Ground by Josh and Rebecca Tickell.

Tuesday, September 16, 2025

Showtimes: 4:00 PM & 7:00 PM

Swysgood Technology Center Great Room,
University of Montana Western Campus

Common Ground tells the powerful story of farmers, scientists, and activists working to heal America's soil, support family farms, and regenerate the future of food and farming. This film has inspired audiences across the country—and now Dillon joins the national conversation on regenerative agriculture.

The evening will feature: • Film Screening of Common Ground • Local organizations/nonprofit/student tabling on food, land, and community health • Community panel & audience Q&A with local leaders • Opportunities to connect, volunteer, and take action

"This is more than a screening—it's a call to action," said organizers. "By coming together, we can learn, share, and be part of building healthier soil, healthier food, and healthier communities right here in Beaverhead County."

Admission is free and open to the public. All are welcome—students, families, farmers, ranchers, and community members.

MVD accepting grant applications from nonprofits that help chronically ill children

The Montana Motor Vehicle Division (MVD) is accepting Chrome for Kids Wish Fund applications from Montana-based nonprofits that grant wishes to chronically or seriously ill children.

When a Montana resident pays to register their motorcycle or quadricycle, a $20 donation fee is put into the Chrome for Kids Wish Fund, a special revenue fund created by the Montana Legislature to provide financial support for programs that make a lasting impact on children's lives. Qualified local nonprofits dedicated to helping children are encouraged to apply for the Chrome for Kids grant to support their services.

"Thanks to the Chrome for Kids Wish Fund we are able to support organizations that are working everyday to make children's dreams come true," MVD Administrator Laurie Bakri said. "It's really wonderful to know that we can be a part of something that reaches beyond the business of motor vehicles."

To be considered, applications must include the following:

- An overview of the nonprofit

Dear Dillon Community Members,

The Dillon Elementary School District is excited to share our Learner (Graduate) Profile with you. This document is required by the Office of Public Instruction (OPI) and is intended to encompass our hopes and dreams for the children of Dillon as they leave the elementary district.

Employers today are looking for skill sets that may vary from those of the past. Even casual research will reveal that academic performance alone is not enough to meet the rigorous demands of today's organizations. In addition to content knowledge, employers are asking for a set of "soft skills" that include but are not limited to professionalism, work ethic, oral and written communication skills, teamwork and collaboration skills, and the ability to think critically and solve problems.

You will see all these skills reflected in some way in our Learner Profile. Our goal is to produce students who have:

- Effective Communication Skills
- Strong Work Ethic
- Global Citizenship
- Academic Proficiency
- Integrity and Character
- Independence That Supports Lifelong Learning

The Dillon Elementary School District is dedicated to providing the education that will facilitate the development of these skills. Please direct questions and comments to Dillon Elementary's Federal Programs Director, Simone Nichols, at snichols@dillonelem.k12.mt.us.
