Attorney General Knudsen launches PSA to combat elder fraud and abuse in Montana

Attorney General Austin Knudsen launched a new public service announcement to remind Montana seniors to be aware and take precautions as bad actors commonly prey on the elderly population.

The 30-second spot features Attorney General Knudsen and Susan Bivins, an Anaconda resident who lost her life savings to a scammer in 2022. In the spot, Bivins shares how she was defrauded and provides Montanans with tips to avoid falling victim to fraud schemes. It will run through the end of the year.

"Scammers deliberately target seniors who have been working and saving their entire lives to retire. At the Montana Department of Justice, we will continue to do what we can to hold perpetrators accountable. I encourage every Montanan to learn the signs and stay in contact with their older friends, neighbors, and relatives to help us stop this abuse," Attorney General Knudsen said. "Always remember if something feels wrong: Stop. Check. Protect. And if you or a loved one is the victim of elder abuse, contact my office immediately."

After fraudulent charges on her Amazon account, Bivins was scammed by a man posing as a Federal Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) agent who convinced her she was the suspect in a money laundering scheme. For weeks, he kept tabs on her until he eventually told her she was ruled out as a suspect, but she needed to transfer her savings to him to keep it safe from the money launderers. In return, he promised the DEA would issue her a cashier's check for the total amount once her money was safe, but she never received it. The scammers who targeted Bivins used popular tactics like fear, pressure, and urgency to coerce her into complying with their demands.

"You really need to listen to your gut, and if your gut tells you this is not right, pay attention to that," Bivins said in the PSA.

Older Americans are frequently the targets of scammers trying to make a quick buck, and can also be victims of physical, emotional, and sexual abuse. According to AARP, there are more than 369,000 nationwide incidents of financial abuse that target older adults each year.

The Montana Department of Justice's Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) oversees three sections that work to protect Montana's elders. The Medicaid Fraud Control Unit provides direct assistance to criminally investigate elder abuse and exploitation within health care facilities, the Office of Consumer Protection (OCP) protects seniors from financial exploitation, and the Elder Justice Unit helps to combat financial exploitation, abuse, and other crimes committed against Montana's older population.

Common scams that a predator may use against the elderly include the grandparent scam, in which a scammer pretends to be a grandchild in need of monetary assistance; romance scams, which target lonely seniors looking to build a romantic relationship; and law enforcement scams, in which the scammer is creating a false sense of authority by claiming to be law enforcement.

Attorney General Knudsen offered the following tips to avoid falling victim to a scam:

- Don't give out personal information to someone soliciting it from you over the phone or the internet. Banks and government agencies will never call and ask for your personal information.
- Never wire or give money to someone you don't know. Don't send gift cards, prepaid debit cards, or cryptocurrency to someone you do not know. Even if you think it's someone you know, follow up to make sure before you wire any money.
- Use common sense and do your due diligence: ask around, talk to others, call OCP if you have any doubts or questions.
- Be skeptical, resist high-pressure tactics, and take your time. If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is!

Montanans can report the financial exploitation and abuse of seniors to the Montana Department of Justice at 406-444-3874.

Montanans can also report any phone, email, or mail scams to the Montana Department of Justice's Office of Consumer Protection at contactocp@mt.gov, or 406-444-4500 (toll-free: 800-481-6896), or online at dojmt.gov/consumer.

Montanans can report suspected cases of Medicaid fraud or elder abuse by calling the Medicaid Fraud hotline at 800-376-1115.

Kyle Gruhler Named Frontier Conference Men's Basketball Offensive Player of the Week

Montana Western men's basketball player Kyle Gruhler picked up Frontier Conference Men's Basketball Offensive Player of the Week honors after leading the Bulldogs to a 76-61 victory at Evergreen in their season opener Oct. 25.

"Kyle played great this past weekend and really stepped up for us, head coach Patrick Jensen said. "It shows the work he has put in this summer and reflects not only his hard work but our groups unselfishness and the work everyone is putting in."

Gruhler posted game highs in both points (31) and rebounds (seven) against the Geoducks. He also added two assists.

The Vancouver, Wash., native shot 55.6 percent (10-18) from the field, 45.5 percent (5-11) from beyond the arc, and 100.0 percent (6-6) from the charity stripe in the contest.

Additionally, Gruhler scored UMW's first 11 points in the game helping them take the lead over Evergreen early in the game.

Secretary Christi Jacobsen to host Halloween trick-or-treating at Montana State Capitol

Montana Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen will host Halloween trick-or-treaters on the flag plaza in the front of the Montana State Capitol on Friday, October 31, from 4-6 p.m.

Secretary Jacobsen and her colleagues will hand out full-sized candy bars and invite all Montana kids and families to join in the fun. Several other offices and state agencies will participate with Secretary Jacobsen in providing treats.

"I'm excited to share a spooktacular evening with Montanans at the Montana State Capitol," said Secretary Jacobsen. "Come one and all to show off your costumes and enjoy delicious full-sized candy bars. Happy Halloween, Montana!"

Secretary Jacobsen reminds Montana drivers to be alert to children and families as they travel to households around their neighborhood. She also urges trick-or-treaters to be safe when crossing the street, walk in groups with a chaperone, and be cautious of potential cooling temperatures in the evening.

Veteran's Corner Update #332

By Mike Lawson

Veteran News Updates:

- Agent Orange continues to raise it's ugly head. A tragedy for the Veterans in and out of the Viet Nam Era time period, who were exposed to this deadly chemical defoliant. It was used to remove the leaves from trees and plants in the war zones of Viet Nam. October is Agent Orange Awareness Month. An estimated 3 million service members served in Vietnam, and most returned home. Ever since then, many of these Veterans have fought another battle, being illnesses related to Agent Orange. This deadly toxin has not only affected them but their families as well. Most Americans are unaware or don't have a clue, according to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund. Many of us, Viet Nam Veterans, have gotten on the VA Agent Orange Registry. The VA has a number of treatment programs and studies available to us. If your a Viet Nam Veteran or a Veteran who has been exposed to this deadly chemical and are not getting treated for it or are not on this registry, please go to the VA, get checked and get on this registry. Most of us Veterans from that Era are in our 70s and 80s. This is the time we often call the "Golden Years" when our bodies start to break down. My point is, don't wait until later if you haven't addressed this.

- Alzheimer's disease is one where you lose your memory and ability to think clearly. I read that approximately 500,000 Veterans live with Alzheimer's disease. It's projected that number will increase to 540,000 by 2033. Veterans are more at risk due to a number of contributing factors including dramatic brain injury, post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), exposure to Agent Orange and chronic medical conditions. The VA is addressing this with two groundbreaking anti-amyloid therapies, lecanemab (Leqembi) and donanemab (Kisunla)-for Veterans with early stage Alzheimers. This treatment was developed to slow cognitive decline. It's personal for each of us to think we are mentally losing it. If we think we might be experiencing these types of issues, the VA is there to evaluate and treat us. Take the first step and make an appointment for not only your sake but for the sake of your family as well.
